

Describing Me the Most

Even though people describe me in so many ways, my circle maps portrays me the most by the things I'm good at, my personality, and favorite things. To begin, the three things I am proficient at are Volleyball, Drawing, and Making People laugh. I am good at volleyball because I am quick on my feet. Furthermore, I can react fast enough to make a successful pass to the setter. Following this skill, is drawing. I have an open mind, thinking of many creations I make something into. So then I can draw every detail nicely. Lastly, is making people laugh. Everyday I just act like different characters and express them a bit more. Or sometimes I'm just clumsy and fall or do something on accident that makes people crack up. Another category is, my personality. I am expressed in many different ways. Such as hilarious, go with the flow, and hardworker. Hilarious describes me the most because if someone is feeling sad, my only solution is making them laugh and I mostly succeed with it. Making them forget all about their worries and sadness. Secondly, I am a "go with the flow" kind of guy. Usually, I don't care who makes the decisions or what decision is made. I just handle whatever is brought to me. To finish off, I like to be described as a hard worker. I always put forth my 110% effort in all my work. Also, with quality to get the good out of it. Finally, are my favorites. To start off, are my yummy gummy sour belts. If there are two flavors I wouldn't survive with it would be sweet and sour. I just love the sweet sugar coating and the sour citric acid red gummy belt. Next, is that I like traveling to different places. I want to experience different cultures, creations, and beautiful sights god has created for us. Once, you see something new, I promise it will be amazing. To end, are my Acai' Bowls. This is just so creative. A blend of Acai berry topped of with a variety of fruits (strawberry, mango, blueberries, banana, coconut etc...) and granola. This bowl is refreshing and super healthy. Just having a juicy bowl of fruits is so soothing on hot beach days. To conclude, the things I'm good at, my personality, and my favorite things describe me the most. I am probably sure this is the best way it describes you as well. Though, everyone is special in their own ways and this is me.
